SMALL DOSES

D'Annunzio's carriage on justify us in calling him Danzey for short.

Finis Rogers, the sole survivor of the auto accident at Princeton, was still alive at last accounts.

At Pikeville today, Senator Stanley will make a few desultory remarks about one Edward Morrow.

Jewish merchants will all close their stores today on account of their religious holiday known as the Day of Atonement.

The best thing for the returned negro soldiers to do is to forget some things they learned in France. In many respects there is a difference between the two countries.

Up to a late hour last night, no paragraph had referred to the Ardmore, Oklahoma, egg barrage laid down on the Reed platform, as an "eggsaggerated report of a trivial incident."

If the "union organizer" who gave girls physical examinations in Evansville, found it necessary to do further than watch them on the street, the Evansville girls must not dress in style.

At the Evansville Centennial Oct. 14, Lieut. Locklear will climb from the airplane into another and perform on a trapeze under one of them.

On the heels of the news that Dr. Grayson has called in four other doctors, in the President's case, comes the concluding sentence that "Much concern is expressed."

The conservation and thrift campaigns during the war do not seem to have left a beneficial impression on the Oklahoma people, who showered Senator Reed with eggs worth 50 cents a dozen—if they were still marketable eggs.

King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, of Belgium, arrived in New York Thursday and were welcomed by Vice President Marshall. They are the most popular sovereigns in Europe. The King endeared himself to his country by his heroism in the field throughout the war.

The President does not know just how sick President Wilson is, but there is a feeling of growing uneasiness throughout the country. Even his enemies and critics appear to realize that they may have to answer to the nation for worrying him to death.

Gov. Black and Frank Daugherty speak at Bardstown today and the Governor at Taylorsville at night. Mat Cohen twice in Graves county, W. H. Shanks at Burgin, L. E. A man in Evansville named Theodore Endeward, a business agent of the Retail Clerks' Union, was sent out to "organize" the girls who applied and required them to submit to physical examinations on the pretext that it was a preliminary medical examination. In city court he admitted that he had no legal reason whatever for his action. On nearing this the girls started to crying because they had been duped. Seven were called and were in court when a fine of $5 was imposed on the organizer and the union, following the disclosure, took steps to fire him. The girls said the examinations were made before their parents and they believed it to be perfectly legitimate.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Mrs. Hattie C. Wood, widow of the late Thomas O. Wood, who committed suicide last spring, recovered a policy of $2,000 on the life of the deceased in circuit court this week. She sued the Columbia National Life Insurance Company to enforce payment, which was refused on the ground of a suicide clause in the policy. Wood at the time he took his life also killed his little child.

PRES. WILSON A VERY SICK MAN

W. J. Bryan To Speak Here Today

SPECIALISTS ARE CALLED

FOR CONSULTATION AND THE PATIENT IS PUT TO BED. BULLETIN ISSUED.

AND MUCH CONCERN IS FELT

Experts Declare Absolute Rest Is Essential For Some Time Spends Day in Bed.

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Wilson is a "very sick man" and his "condition is less favorable," it is said, by Dr. Grayson, the president's physician, in a statement issued at 10 o'clock last night from the White House.

The following bulletin was issued by Dr. Grayson:

"The President is a very sick man. His condition is less favorable and he has remained in bed throughout the day."

"After consultation with Dr. F. X. Dercum of Philadelphia and Doctors Sterling Ruffin and E. R. Stitt of Washington in which all agreed as to his condition it was determined that absolute rest is essential for some time."

For the first time since the president returned last Sunday from his interrupted country-wide tour in the interest of the peace treaty he was compelled to keep to his bed all day.

Dr. Grayson, it was learned, consulted two naval doctors, Rear Admiral E. R. Stitt, head of the Naval Medical school, and Capt. John B. Dennis, director of the naval dispensary at Washington.

The decision to call in a nerve specialist was made as a precautionary measure. It was explained it was desired to relieve the strain on Dr. Grayson, who has been in almost constant attendance on the president since he was taken ill one week ago while on his tour.

Dr. Grayson also called in Dr. George DeSchweinitz, an eye specialist of Philadelphia, with whom the President in the past has consulted about twice a year. Dr. DeSchweinitz is expected to see the president within a few days.

Early in the day Dr. Grayson made known that the President's physical condition was fairly strong and that his blood pressure was good. The president's age—he is approaching his sixty-third birthday—it was explained, however, made close watching of his condition essential.

There is much speculation in the capitol as to the president's real condition and concern was greatly expressed.

SENATE REJECTS AMENDMENTS

SMALLEST MAJORITY AGAINST SENATE PROPOSALS IS 15, LARGEST 28.

NINE REMAINING AMENDMENTS

Seventeen Republicans Line Up Against Changes—Two Democrats Favor Them.

Washington, Oct. 3.—At last reaching the stage of action in its consideration of the peace treaty, the senate yesterday swept aside in quick succession thirty-six of the forty-five amendments which had been written in to the document by the foreign relations committee.

The smallest majority recorded against any of the committee proposals was 15 and the largest was 28. All of the amendments considered had been introduced by Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, and were designed to curtail American participation in European settlements resulting from the war.

Of the nine amendments yet to be acted on, six relate to the Shantung section; two propose to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, and one would limit American representation on the reparations commission. In the absence of a definite agreement for the disposition of these proposals, senate leaders thought tonight that the debate might run on for several days before another roll call is taken.

Throughout the day's voting the Democrats presented a solid front against the amendments except for Senator Gore of Oklahoma and Thomas of Colorado. Seventeen Republicans on the other hand lined up against the first committee proposal to be considered and most of them stood with the Democrats on scheduling roll calls. Many of them announced they were for reservations they believed would cover the same ground without endangering the treaty.

At adjournment the treaty advocates declared themselves elated at the day's work and the opposition leaders were also claiming a victory on the showing made for their amendments.

EGGS GREET SEN. REED

Lights Turned Out In Oklahoma Hall; Speaker Hooted From Platform.

Ardmore, Okla., Oct. 3.—United States Senator James A. Reed was egged from the stage at Convention Hall Tuesday night as he was introduced by the Mayor in preparation for his speech against the League of Nations.

As Senator Reed came on the stage all light wires to the building were cut. Pandemonium broke loose and cries of derision howled him down, while the audience surged up on the stage. Reed attempted to hold the floor for a few minutes, but was forced to make his exit without beginning his speech.

After several minutes of the demonstration a number of women climbed upon the stage and quieted the crowd.

Reed could not be seen at his hotel here tonight, but it was announced that he would make no attempt to deliver his address.

MISS EMMA NOE GIVEN OVATION LAST NIGHT

IN VOCAL CONCERT TALENTED DRAMATIC SOPRANO CHARMS HOME FRIENDS

FIRST APPEARANCE IN CITY

Benefit Performance For Bethel Woman's College Was Great Success.

An overflowing house greeted Miss Emma Noe, Hopkinsville operatic star, last night, at the Union Tabernacle, in a concert for Bethel Woman's College, and a good round sum for the building fund will be turned in from the proceeds. Miss Noe is a daughter of Col. A. D. Noe, of Hotel Latham, and graduated from the Cincinnati Conservatory two years ago. A leading critic says of her:

"Among the few concert sopranos who are rapidly achieving real distinction and who bid fair to win a place in the ranks of America's foremost artists, Miss Emma Noe holds a prominent position. Gifted with a dramatic soprano voice of rarely beautiful quality and a personality of unique charm, she has been frequently acclaimed 'a second Nerdica'—an appellation which is fully justified. Her instant and great success wherever she has appeared and the enthusiastic praise accorded her by critics, musicians and public, her constantly widening fame as an artist of superlative gifts, give assurance that she must soon be known and recognized as one of the foremost of American singers. For Miss Noe is an American, born in Kentucky, and trained in this country."

She is now with the Chicago Grand Opera Co. and tendered to Hopkinsville, for the Bethel Benefit, one of only three open dates for the present season.

Seats were put on sale Monday and went off with a rush and practically all of the lower floor was sold by yesterday. The rush to get in last night was almost unprecedented in Hopkinsville for entertainments costing $1.25.

Miss Noe's singing was supplemented by readings by Mrs. Lillie Waller Chatten, who has attained much success as an entertainer.

Miss Noe arrived in the city Thursday night with her own accompanist from the Grand Opera Co., Ernest Knoch.

Prof. Clark, an expert tuner from Evansville, came at the same time to put the Grand piano—Miss Noe's own instrument from Hotel Latham—in tip-top condition and a rehearsal took place in the afternoon.

A committee of ladies were engaged during the day in decorating the stage and beautifying the interior of the tabernacle.

One section of the balcony was set apart for the colored people and many availed themselves of the opportunity to hear Miss Noe.

Bethel Woman's College sent a delegation of fifty of the girls who occupied seats in a body.

Dr. and Mrs. Gaines were with them, Dr. Gaines just up from an illness of several days.

Mrs. Chatten, who assisted as reader, is a native of Hopkinsville and a member of the Alumnae of Bethel Woman's College, who volunteered her services out of love for her Alma Mater. She proved to be a most welcome addition to the program and her readings covering a wide range were received with every manifestation of approval. Her work has been compared most favorably with that of James Whitcomb Riley and some of her best numbers were her own poems. The Board of Trustees and the Alumnae Association are very grateful for her timely assistance in making the entertainment a success.

The program in full as rendered will be found on page 8.
